

MR. W. E. CLARK DIES ON A TRAIN

Philanthropist of Woodhaven, L. I., Suddenly Stricken on Business Trip to San Francisco.

Mr. William Everett Clark, philanthropist and public spirited resident of Woodhaven, L. I., died on a train at San Diego, Cal., yesterday. The intelligence of his death was conveyed in telegrams to friends in Queens county.

With his wife, Mr. Clark was on the way to San Francisco to look after their property, they being among the largest property holders in that city. After the big fire in San Francisco Mr. Clark spent nearly two years superintending the erection of his buildings, and he was on his way to make a final inspection. His body will be brought to Woodhaven for interment.

Mr. Clark was born in Vernon, Oneida county, N. Y., March 27, 1838. On his mother's side he was related to President Cleveland, Major General John Pope, Major General John E. Sedgwick and Mr. William E. Dodge.

On being discharged he went to Woodhaven, then a country village, and established a large general store, which was headquarters for farmers and settlers for miles around. He became one of the wealthiest and most influential men in Queens county, and retired about eighteen years ago. Since that time he had managed his property in Queens county and in San Francisco. He was the first to advocate the planting of the flag on the district school in Woodhaven. He was postmaster of Woodhaven under Presidents Garfield and Harrison. He was an active member of the Grand Army of the Republic, and of the Congressional Church.

OBITUARY.

THE REV. DR. CHARLES STANLEY ALBERT.

The Rev. Dr. Charles Stanley Albert, editor of the Sunday school publications of the General Synod of the Lutheran Church, died Sunday at his home in Philadelphia, Pa. He was an author of several books and was closely related to the Sunday school movement in this country through his intimate association with the International Sunday School Editorial Association, of which he was treasurer.

MR. LEWIS WALTERS.

Mr. Lewis Walters, for fifteen years an attendant in the County Court in Queens county, died suddenly of heart disease Sunday night at his home, No. 238 Sixth avenue, Long Island City. Known to thousands of lawyers and others whose business took them to the County Court, he memorized the court calendars and could not without hesitation place a case on trial and what ones would be called each day. Mr. Walters was formerly a cigarmaker in Steinhilber, L. I. He was sixty-five years old. He left a widow, seven sons and a daughter.

THE REV. JAMES J. DOUGHERTY.

The Rev. James J. Dougherty, for nearly fifty years a priest of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Brooklyn, died yesterday of general debility at St. Peter's Hospital, Brooklyn. He had been ill since last November but continued the celebrating of mass every day, saying his last mass several hours before his death. Father Dougherty was seventy-five years old. He founded the Church of the Holy Cross, in Flatbush, and for several years had been associate rector of the Church of St. Peter and Paul, in Wythe avenue, Williamsburg. For a time he was the chaplain of the Monastery of the Sacred Precious Blood. His last assignment was as rector of the Church of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, at Sag Harbor, L. I.

MR. ERNEST MOLWITZ.

Mr. Ernest Molwitz, an organizer and at one time vice president of the New York College of Pharmacy, died yesterday of heart disease at his home, No. 88 East 165th street. He was seventy-five years old and had been pharmacist in this city for more than forty years. For several years his place of business was at Sixth avenue and Fifty-third street. Before he retired, seven years ago, he moved to No. 2,709 Eighth avenue. He left a widow, five daughters and two sons.

Obituary Notes.

Mr. Henry J. Struss, a sixty-year-old, died of apoplexy at his home, No. 73 Kean street, Brooklyn. Mr. Struss for many years was connected with the Havemeyer & Elder sugar plant and was active in democratic politics. He retired nine years ago. He left a brother and two sisters.

Mrs. Josephine Seaman Hastings, seventy years old, died Sunday night at her home on Pompton turnpike, near Cedarhurst, N. Y. Her husband was the wife of Mr. George H. Hastings. She had resided in the house on Pompton turnpike for thirty-two years. Besides her husband she left three children.

Mr. Henry S. Tubbs, fifty-three years old, died Sunday night at his home in West Sixth street, Montclair, N. J., where he moved four years ago. He left his mother, a widow and one daughter.

Mr. Ernest J. Fletcher, seventy-four years old, the last of the pioneer shoe manufacturers of Brooklyn, Mass., has died of heart disease at his home. He was a Minuteman of '61.

Miss Mary Evelyn Ward, seventy-seven years old, died Sunday night at her home, No. 18 Maple avenue, Montclair, N. J. Miss Ward for nearly forty years conducted a private school in Orange. She was a sister of the late Mr. Mark A. Ward, a publisher and newspaper writer.

Mr. Duer Wood Baird, seventy years old, prominent in the wholesale meat trade in New York for thirty years, died Sunday at his home in North Plainfield, N. J., of heart trouble. He left a widow.

Mr. Ellen E. Walker, widow of Mr. George S. Walker, formerly of Watertown, N. Y., and mother of Miss Leona L. Walker, principal of Trinity school, New Rochelle, died at her home, No. 43 Trinity street, New Rochelle, yesterday.

Captain Francis M. Doble, of Charlestown, Mass., one of the eighteen survivors of the first company to respond to Lincoln's call for volunteers, April 15, 1861, died, in his seventy-fourth year. He was seventy-three years old.

Mrs. Ann D. Trux, ninety-four years old, died yesterday in Bayonne, N. J. For ten years she had been totally blind, but found diversion with her needle. She took special pride in her rag carpets. She left one daughter and two sons.

Mr. George W. Harpell, sixty-seven years old, who for the last sixty years made his home in Whitehouse, L. I., died there yesterday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. B. Dalton.

Mr. James Madison Ellis, formerly a banker and contractor, who a decade ago was one of the best known business men of New York State, died suddenly at his home in Syracuse, N. Y., yesterday. He was seventy-three years old.

Mr. Elkanah Drake, seventy-seven years

MR. W. R. BURLING, AGED EDITOR, DIES

Long Island Veteran Started Thirteen Newspapers and Was Sponsor for Mr. R. W. Gilder.

Mr. Walter R. Burling, dean of Long Island editors, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. R. C. Hallock, in Bridgehampton, L. I., Sunday. For more than fifty years he was engaged in the newspaper business in Long Island, and in the period established thirteen newspapers, the first of which is now the Flushing Daily Times.

His grandfather was the owner of a large farm, which included what is now Burling Slip in Manhattan, and the slip takes its name from the family who lived there.

Mr. Burling was the means of getting Mr. Richard Watson Gilder interested in the publishing business, having started for him a school paper in Flushing when the editor of the Century was a school boy.

Mr. Burling was born in 1820 in Manassas, N. J. His death was due to a second stroke of paralysis.

He died at his home, No. 25 Hedden terrace, Newark, N. J., yesterday, of pneumonia. Mr. Drake was a resident of Newark for fifty-seven years and from early manhood was identified with philanthropic and religious work.

Mr. Frank E. Williams, of No. 34 Park place, Orange, N. J., a salesman employed in New York, died yesterday as the result of a fall. He was fifty-one years old and left a widow and seven children.

Mr. Joseph Holub, a chief gunner under Admiral Dewey at the battle of Manila Bay, died at the Great Lakes Naval Station, in North Chicago, Ill., Sunday night of pneumonia. He had served in the navy twenty-seven years and was fifty years old. He was retired January 1.

Mrs. Lydia Rhoebe Valentine, widow of Mr. William M. Valentine, died yesterday at the home of her grand niece, Mrs. Lydia M. Pinkham, in South Norwalk, Conn. She was born ninety-one years ago in the Mott owned by Mr. Henry Payne Whitney. She was a Quakeress and belonged to the Flushing Meeting House.

Mr. John J. McCue, a patrolman attached to the West 15th street station, died on Saturday at his home, No. 181 West 15th street, of acute indigestion, at the age of forty-four years. He had been on the force since 1872. He left a widow.

Mr. Christian Padellietti, sixty years old, a retired importer of New York, died at his home, No. 84 Lenox avenue, East Orange, N. J., Sunday, of nervous trouble. Until his death he had been a member of several prominent clubs owned by New York. He left a widow, two sons and a daughter.

Mr. James Jones, sixty-eight years old, died in his home in Scarsdale, N. Y., yesterday. He came to this country from Ireland where he had lived for years, conducting a furniture store in New York. He retired eight years ago. He left a widow and two sons.

Mrs. Clara M. Dougherty, sixty years old, widow of Mr. John Dougherty, who was president of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company, died of heart disease yesterday at her home, No. 404 West 115th street. She left three sons and three daughters.

Mrs. Helen M. Seaman, widow of Mr. Alpheus R. Seaman, died yesterday of heart disease at St. Peter's Hospital, Brooklyn. She was born near Syracuse, N. Y., seventy-eight years ago. She left a son and a daughter. The burial will take place in Syracuse.

Mr. Robert Emmet Perkins, a civil war veteran, died of pneumonia Sunday at the home of his niece, Mrs. G. A. Preuss, No. 496 First street, Brooklyn. Mr. Perkins for forty years had been employed by the Bank of New York of this city. He was sixty-nine years old.

DEVOTION COSTS HER LIFE.

Miss Bead Dies Soon After Her Father, Whom She Nursed.

Constant attendance at the sick bed of her father, who died last Friday, caused the death of Miss Bead Bead, a daughter of Mr. William Bead, of No. 11 South Portland avenue, Brooklyn. Miss Bead's death was due to a general breaking down of the nervous system. She was twenty-seven years old.

Funeral services for Mr. Bead, who was seventy years old, were held at his home on Sunday and last night funeral services were held for Miss Bead. Mr. Bead and her four sons survive.

FUNERAL OF MR. J. P. PUELS.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon in the Nostrand Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church, Brooklyn, for Joseph P. Puels, who died in the West. For several years Mr. Puels was a prominent real estate broker in Brooklyn. He was president of the General Repairs and Construction Company, a director of the Greenwich Insurance Company and a member of the Union League Club of Brooklyn. He was sixty-two years old.

LOST DOG "FINDS HIMSELF."

Hotel Vanderbilt Proprietor Gets News of Sparkler by Telephone. Thomas M. Hilliard, proprietor of the Vanderbilt Hotel, is rejoicing over the recovery of his valuable Scotch terrier, Sparkler. The dog "found himself" when lost in a rather unusual way. Mr. Hilliard brought Sparkler from Ireland two years ago. When Mr. Hilliard put his touring automobile up for the winter he let his chauffeur take charge of the dog at the garage, corner of Thirty-eighth street and Eighth avenue.

A few days ago the chauffeur called to say that the dog had wandered away. Mr. Hilliard sent out men to search for him and advertised. Finally he took up the telephone to tell Mr. Bingham, chief engineer at the Waldorf-Astoria, the bad news. "I've lost Sparkler," he said. "No you haven't," was the reply. "He is here asleep on the chair beside me." And then he told how Sparkler had wandered in Saturday night.

Offers to Dance in Court.

Wallace W. Sweeney, proprietor of a dance hall in West Thirty-first street, was convicted yesterday afternoon in the Court of Special Sessions on a charge of keeping a disorderly house. Judges Deuel, Hoyt and McInerney immediately sentenced him to six months in the penitentiary. In his own defense Sweeney offered to give an exhibition in court of the dancing which was alleged by the policemen to be objectionable. The judges declined to accede to the suggestion.

MODERN SCIENCE AND CONTEMPORARY.

TERFEITERS.—The introduction of photo-mechanical methods into modern industry has shown new possibilities to the maker of bad money, and the Secret Service has had to devise new methods of detection. Illustrated story, next Sunday's NEW YORK HERALD.

More Rain Is Due To-Day, Then Storm Will Be Pushed Out to Sea

Unsettled Weather, with Variable Winds, Predicted for New York and Neighborhood, but It Will Be Fair To-Morrow—Little Change in Temperature Expected.

HERALD WEATHER FORECAST.

In New York and neighboring regions to-day unsettled weather, preceded by rain, will prevail, with nearly stationary temperature and moderate fresh variable winds, followed by clearing.

Until the storm centre now hovering over New York is pushed out to sea, which probably will not occur until to-night, little change in the brand of weather this city experienced yesterday may be expected. Indications last night were that rain probably will fall to-day and perhaps to-night, but fair weather is predicted for Wednesday. Indications last night also were that there will be little change in temperature, at least until after the storm has disappeared.

While it caused delays to traffic and made walking difficult the mixture of rain and sleet that covered the streets with ice yesterday brought joy to the hearts of children who were able to go to Central Park. There the hills were sheets of ice, and bob sledding was a more enjoyable sport than at any time this season. All the hills and roads were thronged with children and many adults who seemed to find entertainment in the swift descent.

For drunkenness discovered by a prominent London physician. Others on board the Prinz Friedrich Wilhelm were Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Black, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Rankin, Mrs. Henry Willis, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Howell and Miss Ernestine Flaubert.

HERALD WIRELESS WARNS SHIPPING

Warning of high northeasterly gales was sent by wireless telegraph to steamships in the Atlantic yesterday evening by the Herald wireless station at the Battery, at the request of the Revenue Cutter Service. Word also was sent to Lieutenant Von Boserck, of the revenue cutter Mohawk, to search for a submerged wreck near Sandy Hook, at the request of Captain Emery, chief of the New York bureau of the Revenue Cutter Service.

The Uglinda, a German tramp steamship, arriving in New York Harbor yesterday morning, reported to Captain Emery that she had picked up a submerged wreck, with one ice covered mast standing fifteen feet out of water, drifting about twenty-three miles north by north-west of Ambrose Channel Lightship. Through the Herald wireless station the Mohawk was sent to blow up the wreck because it was in a position dangerous to scores of vessels daily approaching New York Harbor.

A message was received by the Herald at six o'clock this morning stating that the Mohawk would anchor inside Sandy Hook for the night before continuing the search for the wreck, because of high northeasterly gales. Captain Emery then requested the Herald to send a warning message to all steamships.

ICE IN HUDSON RIVER BLOCKS STEAMSHIPS

Ice covered the steamship Prinz Friedrich Wilhelm, of the North German Lloyd line, from stem to stern and as high as the bridge when she arrived in Hoboken yesterday afternoon.

The Prinz Friedrich Wilhelm, as well as the steamship Laconia, of the Cunard line, which arrived yesterday, had trouble in going alongside her pier because of ice. This was broken by tugboats before the steamships could reach their piers.

Mrs. Vance Cheney, president of the International League of Right Thinking and Right Living and also president of the Pure Thought and Pure Living League, was a passenger on board the Prinz Friedrich Wilhelm. She said that she had been in London studying a cure

Lake Superior to Freeze Over.

DULUTH, Minn., Monday.—Lake Superior is believed to be freezing over its entire area. If so it will be the first time in the memory of the white man. The ice field is now so great that open water can be seen from only a few points. With February at hand there is great reason for believing the entire surface will become solid.

DR. MOORE FOUND DEAD IN HOTEL

Coroner Believes Retired Navy Surgeon Ended His Life with Poison.

Under circumstances that strongly suggest suicide, Dr. J. Moore, a retired navy surgeon, was found dead in a room at the Hotel Gerard, in West Forty-fourth street, yesterday morning. The evidence of suicide consisted of a glass in which a white sediment, that looked like strychnine, was plainly perceptible. The man left no note, and there is therefore some doubt as to whether or not he was addicted to some sort of drug and accidentally took an overdose. Coroner Hellenstein said that he was strongly of the opinion that the man had voluntarily ended his life.

Dr. Moore had been in the service about eighteen years when he retired one year ago. His residence until recently was at Union, S. C.

The body was ordered to be removed to an Elphinstone undertaking establishment by Dr. A. A. Moore, of No. 43 West Thirty-third street. Dr. Moore said that he was only distantly related to the navy surgeon, and that he was acting under instructions from Union, S. C., in taking care of the body. He said that the man who had been found dead was, so far as he was aware, unmarried, and he knew of no reason why he should want to end his life.

"Dr. Moore was endowed with rather an unusual mind," said Dr. Moore. "He was one of those men who could read an entire page of print and remember every word of it."

Dr. Moore was a graduate of three universities. He was born at Rock Hill, S. C., and early in his youth moved with parents to Union. Two sisters and his mother live there and a brother lives in Atlanta. He will be buried in the place in which he was born.

WARNS AMERICANS OF SPANISH CROOKS

Consul General in New York Points Way to Frustrate New Schemes of "Prisoners" in Madrid.

Two new schemes, it developed yesterday, are being used by "Spanish Prisoners," supposed to be in a Madrid dungeon, in luring money from credulous Americans by letters. The Spanish Consul General, Señor Diaz Cosio, said at his office, at No. 18 Broadway, that the authorities

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The Only Fireproof Building Is the Building That Cannot Burn

THOUGH many buildings are mislabeled fireproof, the National Fire Proofing Company has proved that fireproof can mean fire-safe.

The present development of real fireproof construction is due, in greatest measure, to the advancement made by this Company in its twenty years of effort to create materials and methods which totally eliminate inflammable construction. That its achievements have been recognized is proved by the fact that practically every important modern building in America has been built in accordance with this company's standards.

National Fire Proofing Company

Flatiron Building.

General Office: PITTSBURGH, PA. Established 1889.

The SEAL OF SAFETY

SANTAL-MIDY

CATARRH OF THE Bladder

Relieved in 24 Hours

SANTAL-MIDY

Superior in all remedies.

SOLD AT ALL DRUGGISTS.

For samples address "Cuticura," Dept. 611, Boston. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by dealers throughout the world. Beware of cheap imitations. Save with Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

CUTICURA SOAP SHAMPOOS

And occasional light dressings of Cuticura Ointment will prevent it when all else fails. Let us send you a liberal sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment, free, if you have doubts about it.

For samples address "Cuticura," Dept. 611, Boston. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by dealers throughout the world. Beware of cheap imitations. Save with Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

CUTICURA SOAP SHAMPOOS

And occasional light dressings of Cuticura Ointment will prevent it when all else fails. Let us send you a liberal sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment, free, if you have doubts about it.

For samples address "Cuticura," Dept. 611, Boston. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by dealers throughout the world. Beware of cheap imitations. Save with Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

CUTICURA SOAP SHAMPOOS

And occasional light dressings of Cuticura Ointment will prevent it when all else fails. Let us send you a liberal sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment, free, if you have doubts about it.

For samples address "Cuticura," Dept. 611, Boston. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by dealers throughout the world. Beware of cheap imitations. Save with Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

CUTICURA SOAP SHAMPOOS

And occasional light dressings of Cuticura Ointment will prevent it when all else fails. Let us send you a liberal sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment, free, if you have doubts about it.

For samples address "Cuticura," Dept. 611, Boston. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by dealers throughout the world. Beware of cheap imitations. Save with Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

CUTICURA SOAP SHAMPOOS

And occasional light dressings of Cuticura Ointment will prevent it when all else fails. Let us send you a liberal sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment, free, if you have doubts about it.

For samples address "Cuticura," Dept. 611, Boston. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by dealers throughout the world. Beware of cheap imitations. Save with Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

WEST LYNN, Mass.—More than a hundred citizens have signed a petition asking that a hero medal be awarded to Hugh Cunningham. He stopped a runaway mule attached to a load of dynamite.

PRINCETON, Ind.—Charles A. Shubart fell upon an icy pavement and could not extract his hands from his trousers' pockets. He rolled helplessly for an hour and then was taken to a hospital weak from exposure.

MURFREY, Ariz.—Twelve of sixteen men at a meeting were candidates for constable. Tables were obtained and freeze out poker played. The winner received the nomination and $50, representing twelve stacks of chips at $5 a stack.

BRVAN, Ohio.—Intending to call the Rev. William N. Deck to a wedding a telephone girl by mistake summoned Henry E. Deck, an undertaker, who said he was sorry he could not do something for the couple, and then withdrew. The ceremony was postponed for a week to give the hoodoo a chance to wear off.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal.—James O'Neill, arrested for vagrancy, made a leap for liberty from Judge Frank Shortall's court room, jumping from a second story window. His fall and his hopes were broken by the canopy of a police wagon.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal.—Investigating a teacher's complaint that in the Saturday-Sunday vacation period somebody had stolen her school-house, the Board of Education found that it had been sold by mistake and that a wrecker had done the rest.

VENICE, Italy.—Arthur Lee, proprietor of St. Mark's Hotel, accepted an invitation to dine with Sioux Indians in camp with moving picture performers. When he learned the steak he had enjoyed "ever so much" was dog meat, he declared he was "sea sick." He went to bed and called a physician.

WARRENSBURG, Mo.—Julius Peterson, after receiving a badge made from a ten dollar gold piece for good work at a blaze that destroyed Abram Lefkowitz's store, had the bad taste to ask what his reward would have been had he saved the place.

NOW IT'S THE SPIRITUAL HE-GIRA.

The story of the Wright-Cheney case of strange spiritual entanglement, in which the principals defied public opinion in defence of a principle. Next Sunday's NEW YORK HERALD.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.

DRY GOODS, &C.